

JETFLITE

Passion

With over 30 years of experience in business flights, Jetflite is the oldest business flight provider in the Nordic countries and one of the most experienced operators. We are based in Helsinki, Finland. In addition to executive charter flights, our services include aircraft management, air ambulance transport and aircraft maintenance services.

Our executive charter flights are not dependent on busy airport hubs. With us, you can change your destination on short notice, or even fly to several destinations on the same day.

As the aviation division of the Wihuri Group, we are a solidly established operator in the business flight market.

Pleasure

Flying with Jetflite makes business travel a pleasure. You decide when to depart and arrive. Each trip is customised according to your specific needs. Your time is valuable, and a chartered flight is often the only sensible choice.

Large airlines operate with limited destination options and schedules, but an executive jet provides a flexible alternative. When you fly with us, if an important negotiation takes longer than planned, you can stop looking at your watch – your plane won't leave without you.

No more tiresome airport queues, worries about connecting flights, or long taxi rides to and from the airport. Check-in and baggage handling are made easy. Your plane departs from a separate business flight terminal, and our staff takes good care of you.

Safety

Your safety is our top priority. There are no compromises. Our operations, as well as the training of our pilots, comply with the same European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) standards that apply to all airlines. Our company has been in business for many years, but our fleet is new – many of our aircraft represent the most advanced technology in commercial aviation.

State-of-the-art cockpit systems provide the latest in safety technology, and two fully qualified pilots are always on board. Every year, our modern business jets and highly trained crews fly thousands of corporate customers and state officials all over the world.

Comfort

Our executive charter service includes 24/7 customer service, ground transportation, a modern business jet and its crew at your disposal during the entire trip, cuisine planned according to your wishes, and all airport services.

You get to work or relax in the peaceful and private atmosphere of a first-class cabin with personalised in-flight services. A charter flight is about saving time. And since your time is valuable, it's also about saving money.

Choose your destination – let us take you there.

Simplicity

Owning an aircraft can be complicated. It requires a reliable partner. Jetflite operates several business jets from its base in Helsinki, and we are an EU OPS 1 and EASA Part M and Part 145 commercial operator.

Your aircraft management service covers flight scheduling, pilot training, resourcing, and aircraft maintenance. Jetflite's status as an authorised Bombardier Line Maintenance Facility ensures we comply with all current regulations and standards. Having in-house maintenance, dispatch, and pilots makes it possible for us to deliver fast, reliable and flexible services.

When there is free capacity on your aircraft, let us charter the plane on your behalf. We have a large pool of charter customers, and reducing your monthly cost of ownership is in our interest.

With our help, owning an aircraft can be easy.

Reliability

All of Jetflite's certified technicians are trained by the aircraft manufacturers' most experienced instructors. Jetflite's Bombardier Authorised Line Maintenance Facility maintains our own fleet and also provides services to other operators. Jetflite owns its buildings and does not lease facilities from other companies; all maintenance is carried out in our spacious hangars at Helsinki Airport. This enables Jetflite to provide you with a full-service aircraft management package, a clear advantage for our customers, and ensures smoothly operating flights.
